REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Board of Hollis:

GREETING:

Herewith I am submitting my eleventh annual report as superintendent of your schools.

MEMBERSHIP.

Your membership in January was as follows: High School 53, Grades VII and VIII 33, VI and V 23, IV and III 27, II and I 27, Pine Hill 23; total 186. This is two less than it was a year ago, but nearly three more than your average membership for last year. Your high school membership of last year was 35.6% of the membership of the grades at that time. This year the high school membership is nearly 40% of that of the grades. If all pupils were regularly promoted from year to year and all attended the high school for four years, the high school would then be but 50% of the grades. Percentages thus obtained are frequently used by school surveyors as one basis for judging the efficiency of the system. Thus obtained, 40% is unusually high and furnishes a high testimonial for the efficiency of your school system.

TEACHING FORCE.

To fill the two vacancies in your teaching force caused by resignations, you hired Miss Farley, a graduate from the four years course of the Keene Normal School, and Miss Smith, a graduate from the two years course of the same institution. Both are teachers of good promise. Unfortunately, ill health has temporarily prevented Miss Farley from continuing her work. Miss Szlosek, also trained in the three years course of the same school, is substituting for her and is getting excellent results. The rest of your teachers are rendering the excellent service which they have been accustomed to give in past years.

AGRICULTURE.

The agricultural course seems now to be on a firm footing. I believe the boys are receiving in this course a very practical education, and that the course will continue to be popular as long as we can continue the excellent instruction now given. Attention should be given to furnishing better facilities for the shop work.

MATTERS OF INSTRUCTION.

The function of the public schools is to instruct the children in such knowledge, and to train them to such habits of thought and action as shall cause them to become as efficient citizens, politically, economically, and socially, as their natural endowments will permit. The classification of the instruction into the various branches of mathematics, language, history, science, etc., with the grading resulting from the setting up of standards of achievement in these branches frequently obscure the ultimate end sought. It is my conviction that we all too frequently miss the mark because of our slavish adherence to these arbitrary standards. While efficient citizenship should be our aim, the end is lost sight of in an endeavor to reach fixed academic goals. We attempt to turn out a uniform symmetrical product. The lack of conformity to this pattern in all respects prevents the progress of the individual in the school system. To be specific, a child failing to make the standard in mathematics is not promoted to the next grade at the end of the year. As a result, for the next twelve months he must mark time in the other subjects while he endeavors to round out in this one respect. One failure weakens his confidence in self, making failure in other lines more probable, and in extreme cases resulting in an inferiority complex. It is a well known fact that Edison could not master arithmetic. Had he attended a modern public school he would doubtless have been a decided misfit. Instructed by a wise mother, he has become one of the world's greatest benefactors. In order to develop rather than stunt our "Edisons," it is necessary to break down the inflexibility of our system so that children in the same phases of development may be instructed and trained together.

To this end the reorganization of our school system from the old 8-4 to either the 6-2-4 or the 6-3-3 plan was effected. The present drive for the substitution of the problem—project and contract methods in the place of the older styles—has the same end in view.

We are endeavoring in this union to effect this change by placing in the class rooms for individual use such problem-project and contract materials as seemed adaptable and our limited means would permit, and by fostering in the teachers an interest in the study and practice of these methods.

HOT LUNCHES.

I should feel that I had not done my duty unless I had called your attention to the fact that no warm lunches are served in your schools. Whether right or wrong, this is not in harmony with a practice quite common elsewhere and with the views of many interested in the health of school children.
